

PALM BEACH FINE CRAFT SHOW

One-Of-A-Kind And Limited Edition Furniture,
Couture Art-To-Wear And Accessories
March 5-7, 2010

Text by Kim Mosley
Photography courtesy of Crafts America LLC, Greens Farms, CT

Over 100 outstanding artists are the focus of the Palm Beach Fine Craft Show as the finest glass, ceramics, jewelry, textiles, furniture and more are on exhibit at the Palm Beach County Convention Center from March 5-7, 2010.

In a world where art enlivens space, artisans and craftsmen draw inspiration from the beauty and mystery of nature to create visually stimulating objets d'art. Dynamically poising objects as conceptual forms for sculptural visions — some purely decorative and some functional — these fine pieces strike a balance between art and craftsmanship to capture the imagination.

"This is a great time to shop America's best and to celebrate the creative genius of our nation's most talented artists," says Elizabeth Kubie, founder of Crafts America LLC and organizer of the Palm Beach Fine Craft Show. With dozens of appealing exhibitions, the question is: "Where to begin?"

For more information about the fair, call 203/254-0486 or visit www.craftsamericashows.com. i

LEFT: Double fluted redwood burl vessel with ebony accents by artist Kim Blatt, Fleetwood, PA.

TOP: "Tall Flaired Form" sculptural vessel from the Satellite Series by artist Kenny Pieper, Burnsville, NC.